

My FORTY PLUS YEARS
WITH TIFFANY
L. Perini

PHOTOGRAPH BY ERIC BOMAN

On the day Elsa Peretti's collection debuted at Tiffany & Co. in 1974, it sold out. A true pioneer of design, her unique creations had a never-before-seen aesthetic; bold and powerful yet feminine and unpretentious, just like the women it was created for. Managing to maintain style and beauty for decades, Elsa Peretti's jewelry and objects have become a reference in the world of fashion and design.

AEGEAN

Designed to look weathered by ages of contact with water and sand, Peretti's Aegean collection was sparked by a rusted chain that she found at the bottom of the sea.

Aegean bracelet and necklaces in 18k rose and yellow gold and sterling silver.

CAT ISLAND

Inspired by the stones, shells and seaglass found on Cat Island in the Bahamas, this collection is composed of organic forms carved to evoke windswept seashells and glass tumbled by the ocean.

Opposite page: Cat Island designs. Charm bracelet in 18k yellow gold with chrysoprase, and blue and purple chalcedony. Charm bracelet in sterling silver with green aventurine and rock crystal. Also available with green aventurine and white chalcedony, and with chrysoprase and blue chalcedony. This page: Cat Island pendants in 18k yellow gold and sterling silver with rock crystal and green aventurine.

STARFISH

“To me, the ocean bed holds the most fascinating things,” says Elsa Peretti’s Starfish designs are based on several she found in the Maldives.

"I AM NOT AN ARTIST, BUT AN ARTISAN."

Elsa's love of artisanal process has led her to seek out the best craftspeople all over the world—in Spain, Italy, Hong Kong, Japan and the U.S.—many of whom she has worked with for decades. "Sometimes I think I should be at the bench much more," she says, "but no, it is better to find what is really inside a good craftsman."

Peretti's artisans are like her family.

STYLE IS MY MOTHER
Elsa Peretti

The arrival of Elsa Peretti at Tiffany & Co. in 1974 signaled a revolution in jewelry design. Peretti's relationship with style and the natural world is a deeply personal one and reflected strongly in her creations.

"The day Elsa Peretti became a part of Tiffany & Co. was the day we entered a new era in our history of design innovation," said Michael J. Kowalski, former chairman and CEO, Tiffany & Co.

"We were looking for somebody who could capture the mood of the young woman as well as the older woman...someone who could make jewelry that women could wear with jeans and sweaters as well as with their ball gowns," explained former president of Tiffany & Co., Harry Platt.

Among her acclaimed creations is the revolutionary Diamonds by the Yard®, a combination of fine, fluid chains and bezel-set stones that forever changed the role of diamonds in fashion. Peretti is also known for elevating the status of sterling silver, ushering in a new era of accessible jewelry.

Born in Florence, Italy, and educated in Rome and Switzerland, she eventually returned to Rome to pursue a degree in interior design. By 1969, she had established herself as a fashion model in New York and Barcelona, and was also beginning to design her own jewelry. American fashion designer Giorgio di Sant' Angelo used a few of her pieces in a fashion show, which were an instant success. It was during this time that she met the legendary designer Halston, who became her longtime friend and frequent collaborator. She also works closely with Hiro—a relationship which has lasted over 45 years. "I have been inspired by Elsa's magnificent designs," says the celebrated photographer. "They are organic and sensual; you can feel the life pulsing through them."

In the early 1980s, her collections for Tiffany were expanded to include china, crystal and silver designs for the home. Like her jewelry, these new designs were praised for their fluid shape and tactile quality. They represent love for life, the warmth of a generous host and the idea that beauty and utility should always be as one. Her longtime friend, William Chaney, chairman of the board of Tiffany & Co. from 1984 to 2003 expressed his view that "Elsa Peretti, through her aesthetic genius and her consistent pursuit of design perfection, has earned recognition as the world's most respected and most successful jewelry designer."

In 1999, Elsa Peretti celebrated her 25th anniversary with Tiffany & Co. In recognition of her remarkable career, Tiffany established the Elsa Peretti Professorship in Jewelry Design at the Fashion Institute of Technology, the first endowed professorship in the history of FIT. In 2001, the designer was presented with an honorary Doctor of Fine Arts degree from FIT. In further tribute, the Elsa Peretti jewelry case in Tiffany's Fifth Avenue flagship store was designated a Tiffany landmark. Other awards Elsa Peretti has received include the 1971 Coty American Fashion Critic's Award for Jewelry, followed by the Rhode Island School of Design President's Fellow Award in 1981. In 1996, the Council of Fashion Designers of America named her Accessory Designer of the Year.

Other awards include: Fashion Group "Night of the Stars" award, 1986; Cultured Pearl Industry award, 1987; Elsa Peretti Professorship in Jewelry Design, 2001; The National Prize of Culture by the Catalan Government, 2013; Premi Global del JORGC, Col·legi Oficial de Joiers de Catalunya, 2015; Andrea Palladio Lifetime Achievement Award, 2018.

Elsa Peretti's designs are in the permanent collections of the British Museum in London, England, The Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City, the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, Massachusetts, and the Museum of Fine Arts in Houston, Texas.

Few designs maintain their style and beauty for decades, but Peretti's are as modern today as ever.
